Washington, March 16.—The ...ough complete silence which the ...w administration and the Republ...ans in the senate have observed ...th regard to the reopening of the ...ague-of-nations issue apparently is ...using no little concern in the ...rench and British governments. ...ctivities noted in Washington show ...ese governments are keenly de...rous of finding out just where the ...ague issue stands under the new ...gime in Washington.

Action Promised.

Washington, March 16. — Anti-dumping legislation will be passed by the special session of congress within ten days after it meets, Chairman Fordney, of the house ways-and-means committee, predicted today. Chairman Fordney states that legislation providing for the levying of duties on the American standard of valuation will also be passed early in the session.

The anti-dumping bill, which will be the same bill that was passed by the house early in 1920 but which failed to pass the senate, Chairman Fordney said.

Will Be Acceptable.

Washington, March 16.—Official notification from Great Britain that George Harvey, of New York, will be acceptable as the United States ambassador to Great Britain, has been received by the state department, it was learned today.

Shows Anxiety.

Paris, March 16.—Jules Jusserand, French ambassador to the United States, has been greatly distrubed by various reports as to the real object of the forthcoming visit of ex-Premier Viviani to the United States, said the Paris Midi, today. The ambassador has sent a cablegram to the French government asking specifically why M. Viviani will visit Washington.

The Midi pointed out that it is unlikely that M. Viviani will discuss the French war debt to the United States, as he will not be accompanied by financial experts. M. Viviani himself, said the newspaper, is not sufficiently versed in international finance to discuss this great question without expert advice.

ARMENIAN IN MURDER PACT

Swears To Kill Turkish Minister He Assassinates.

TALAAT PASHA IS FOLLOWED TO BERLIN

Slain by Man Who Blames Him for Massacres.

Father and Mother of Assassin Are the Victims of Massacres Which Are Charged Against the Dead Turkish Leader.

Berlin, March 16.—Talaat Pasha former Turkish minister, who was assassinated yesterday, died as the result of a murder pact entered into more than a year ago, according to a confession made to the police, today, by Salamon Teilirian, the young Armenian who fired the fatal shot.

"I swore a solemn oath that I would kill Talaat Pasha, whom I held to be responsible for much of the suffering of my fellow people," said the assassin. "I made solemn oath to call down the bloody vengeance of heaven upon his head. I was prepared to follow him around the world. He could not escape me, no matter what city he went to nor what disguise he used to cover his identity. I knew that his heart's blood belonged to me and I only waited for the sacrifice. Talaat Pasha signed a decree which resulted in a massacre of Arcmnians and my mother and father were killed by Turkish soldiers. Is it any wonder that I held this grudge?

"Talaat Pasha disappeared from Constantinople, but I had my own sources of information and I learned that he was in Berlin. I secured a passport—no matter how—and I came here. I frequented the Turkish quarter and it did not take me long to find out that the old enemy of my family was living here, under an assumed name. He lived very quietly and went out but seldom. He feared assassination. It was in January that I arrived here. I took my time and planned the murder carefully. I was not going to allow all my plans to be spoiled by one false step. Everything came out just as I ordered it."

Teilirian said he was born at Salman, Persia.

The prisoner was badly beaten by a crowd after the shooting and sustained severe injuries in the head, but will recover.

Miss Harlan has served as social secretary for wives of many prominent men of the Democratic as well as the Republican party. This snapshot of Miss Harlan was made as she was walking in the White House grounds.

PRESIDENT AND MRS. HARDING ENTERTAIN INDIAN ENVOYS

Thirtyfive representatives of Indian tribes, many of them in native costume, visited the White House. They came from various western states to recommend the appointment of Thomas L. Sloan, of Nebraska, as Indian commissioner. The visitors were entertained by President and Mrs. Harding, who pointed out to them the beauties of the White House grounds. Mrs. Harding was presented with a beaded hunting bag and the president received a pair of beaded moccasins. The photograph shows the president and Mrs. Harding leaving the White House with Jane Z. Gordon, of the Wyandot tribe, and Chief Hare, of the Yankton Sioux tribe. Mrs. Harding is wearing her beaded bag and the president carries the gift moccasins in his hand.

A COMMERCIAL PACT IS SIGNED

Great Britain and Soviet Russia in Accord.

ANNOUNCEMENT IS MADE OFFICIALLY

British Labor Party Exerts Pressure To Get Agreement.

Soviet Leaders Declare That the Uprising at Kronstadt Is Engineered To Handicap Negotiations of Government.

London, March 16.—A commercial agreement for reciprocal trading has been signed by Great Britain and soviet Russia, it was officially announced today.

Negotiations between Russia and Great Britain have been in progress for nearly two years. Several times they have been reported broken off, but always the powerful British Labor party brought pressure upon the government in favor of their restoration. It was contended by officials of British trade unions that the opening of trade relations with Russia would do much to alleviate British unemployment.

The negotiations were lagging when Washington D. Vanderlip, the American financier, went to Russia and secured valuable concessions for the exploitation of Siberian territory and for the exhange of manufactured goods and raw materials. The Russian-Britain negotiations were speeded and the signing of the pact quickly followed. It was claimed by officials of the soviet government that reports of the recent anti-"Red" uprising at Kronstadt were exaggerated with a view to hindering the trade negotiations of the soviet government.

Reports Exaggerated.

Paris, March 16.—Reports of the counter-revolution at Petrograd were exaggerated, according to a Havas despatch from Helsingfors, today. An American Red Cross worker who visited the fortress of Kronstadt to deliver food, reported that there were about fifty thousand insurgents in the Petrograd district, but that, contrary to previous reports, Petrograd has not been bombed. The chief hope of the insurgents was that the people of Petrograd would join the insurrection.

PLANNING COURSE FOR CONFERENCE

Between Packers and Employes in Washington.

Cooperative Management Plan of the Armour Company and Others Is Making Material Progress, Advices Say.

Chicago, March 16.—With a nation-wide strike vote in the packer-employe wage-cut controversy in progress today, representatives of 200,000 union stockyard workers all over the country were meeting at the headquarters of the Chicago Federation of Labor to plan a course of action with regard to the Washington conference, set for March 21.

George W. Perkins, international president of the Cigarmakers' union, and Thomas Rickert, vice president of the American Federation of Labor, will attend the conference today, in place of Samuel Gompers, who announced at the last moment he would be unable to attend.

The cooperative management plan announced by Armour & Company and Swift & Company progressed today, when twenty-four representatives of the employes chosen at Armour & Company's plant election, yesterday, met with twenty-four representatives to work out details of the plan. A temporary committee of the whole was planned for immediate organization and then to proceed to the redistricting of the voting precincts of the plant, making nominations for divisional committee and the general conference board.

TROTZKY SEES FALL OF REBELS

Says Mutiny at Kronstadt Must Collapse Soon.

MUTINEERS POSSESS HEAVY ARTILLERY

But Will Be Unable To Hold Out Much Longer.

Soviet Commissar Returns to Moscow from Scene of Fighting — Directs Movements of the "Reds" in Person.

[BY LOUISE BRYANT.]
[Copyright, 1921, by I. N. S.]

Moscow, March 11.—[By Wireless to Berlin, March 16.]—The Kronstadt mutiny will soon have collapsed, regardless of the fact that the mutineers possess heavy artillery, declared Leon Trotzky, people's commissar for war, in the Russian soviet government, who arrived home, today, from the "Petrograd front," where he has been directing the operation of "Red" troops against the rebels.

Trotzky was in front of general staff headquarters on his way to confer with generals of the army, when he was interviewed for the International News service. This is the first interview Trotzky has given out since the uprising occurred at Kronstadt and because of his position in the cabinet, it is of the utmost importance. Trotzky said:

"It is impossible to understand the Kronstadt events, unless taken in conjunction with our internal and external situation. Our economic situation, after six and one-half years of war, is well known. We have published frank statistical statements. We do not consider it necessary to conceal our actual conditions from our workers from our country, or from our friends and our enemies in other countries.

"Quite naturally, those parties which two or three times before gave demonstration of their bankruptcy should try to revive themselves by exploiting conditions of the present moment of the workers' revolution.

"I am speaking of social revolutionaries and Mensheviki, who unable to play an independent role, are unable to obtain or maintain themselves in power. They have no stable social foundation. They are trying to be the banana peel on which the working class would slip into counter-revolution against the soviets.

"As to the rising, the Baltic fleet represents that part of our country most exposed to Europe. During the past two years, the personnel of the fleet had changed greatly. The best elements were taken out and transferred to other branches of soviet work and were supplanted by casual elements, among which were many representatives of our border nationalities who regard their service in fact as temporary work. The transitory conditions and unstable personnel of the fleet created an unfavorable atmosphere and gave opportunity for smuggling unto the fleet elements that were openly hostile.

"The masses of sailors formulated demands, which originally did not exceed the demands presented by various groups of laborers, to the soviet government. The revolutionaries utilized these demands as a fulcrum for their lever. Behind their backs, cautiously emerged the figures of revolutionary officers.

"The broad masses of the Kronstadt proposition kept on working without understanding the acuteness of the conflict. Kronstadt being located upon the Gulf of Finland, stands at the gateway from which the world's highways lead to the imperialistic countries. At Reval, the 'White' guard officers became active. The counter-revolutionary agents in the Baltic at once began to establish a contact with Kronstadt. The original leaders of the movement became badly frightened and began to complain of the growing influence of the counter-revolutionary military officers, but then it was too late.

"Quite obviously, after the ice is gone from the Gulf of Finland, the counter-revolutionaries would remove our vessels and deliver them into the hands of the imperialists as they did in the Black sea, if the Baltic fleet fell into the hands of the rebels.

"Knowing this, we [illegible] an armed struggle. This immediately brought about disintegration of the Kronstadt garrison. Sooner or later, Kronstadt will return into the fold of the soviet government and the soviet flag and the world imperialists will have suffered another disappointment."

GOVERNMENT SAVED MONEY

PRESIDENT ASKED TO BROADEN POWERS

Some Examples of Saving Large Sums for Nation Found in Recent Transactions.

Washington, March 16.—While President Harding is giving consideration to plans for a "war liquidation commission," he will be urged, it was learned today, to give official status and increased powers to the so-called economic liaison committee, which for two years has been playing an important part in the national government, though the fact of its existence has been known to but comparatively few persons.

So effectively has this committee succeeded in its function of coordinating the work of the various departments of the government that officials familiar with its record are said, almost without exception, to favor the extension of its scope of operations.

The committee was initiated by the secretary of state, in March, 1919, at the suggestion, it is said, of President Wilson. It is made up of two representatives from each of the two executive departments and it meets every Wednesday, at the state department.

Though instituted primarily with the idea of bringing about closer cooperation among the departments in matters pertaining to foreign trade, the functions of the committee have been extended gradually until they embrace a great many domestic activities, as well. As for example, it is said to have saved large sums to the government in the sale of surplus war material by rendering expert advice as to when materials should be placed on the market and in many instances it has enabled the [illegible] to drive better bargains [illegible] by keeping department heads informed as to the most opportune time for buying necessary materials abroad.

BAVARIA WILL DEFY THE ORDER

Will Not Disband Its Protective Police Force.

REFUSES TO OBEY BERLIN OR ALLIES

Declaration of Official in Lanlag Today.

Says Organization Stands for Orderly Government — German Note of Protest to the League of Nations.

Berlin, March 16.—Bavaria is determined to deny both the Berlin government and the allies on the question of demobilizing the Einwohnerwehr, it was declared by Minister-President von Kahr in an address to the Bavarian Lantag, according to a Munich despatch to the Taeglische Rundschau today.

"If half of the Germans supported orderly government as well as do the members of the Orgesch, Germany would be much better off," said the Bavarian statesman.

Note of Protest.

Geneva, March 16.—The German note, protesting to the league of nations against the allied indemnity penalties which was received this afternoon, will be taken up by the June meeting of the league.

Sir Eric Drummond, secretary general of the league, said he would merely make formal reply advising Germany that the note had been received and that it would be taken up for consideration at the next meeting.

It is regarded as a foregone conclusion that Germany's arguments against the penalties will be rejected.

Defends Course.

Paris, March 16.—The course of the French delegation at the London indemnity conference was defended by Premier Briand, in an address to the chamber of deputies, today.

"We did not yield one inch from our duty at London," said the premier in reply to the interpellations of yesterday. "The manner in which the Rhine Germans received the French troops should be a lesson to the German leaders."

The premier said he wanted his statements to be accepted as an answer to declarations made at Berlin, as well as the reply to the interrogators in the French chamber.

JUSTICES GET JURISDICTION

Can Try Prohibition Cases Brought from Cities.

PROVISIONS OF BILL PASSED BY HOUSE

Measure Will Now Go to Senate. Prohibition Agents May Seize Vehicles Under New Law.

Columbus, March 16.—The house passed, 106 to 40, the Gordon bill giving justices of the peace legislation in prohibition violations in cities.

It passed unanimously the Boylan bill giving prohibition agents the right to seize vehicles in which liquor is transported unlawfully. Both now go to the senate.

Arguing for his bill, Gordon of Logan, chairman of the house temperance committee said it would make prohibition enforcement more effective.

Republican Floor Leader Crabbe declared the measure merely will give the law bearing his name, approved last November, uniform application throughout the state. There is some doubt now be explained, whether the present Crabbe act gives justices of the peace jurisdiction in cities having municipal courts. The Gordon bill, he said, would give them jurisdiction in municipal court cities as well as other municipalities.

No one spoke against the bill. Three Cincinnatians and three Toledians voted against it.

The senate agricultural committee reported out the Brand bread bill, with recommendation that it be passed. The bill provides that all loaves shall be of a standard weight of one pound, with at least sixty per cent. of "free solids." Violation of the provisions of the act if passed, would be subject to a fine of from $25 to $100 for first offenses, and from $100 to $500 for subsequent infractions.

Dunn Measure.

Columbus, March 16.—In caucus Republican house members agreed to pass the Dunn bill reorganizing the state departments, in the form in which it is reported by the house reorganization committee. It is understood that the measure is to be passed Friday and that it will contain an emergency clause, making it effective as law as soon as it passed the senate and is approved by Governor Davis.

The bill will be the subject of committee hearings in the senate, it is stated.

Complying with the governor's request, the house will reduce the number of departments to eight, from nine, by eliminating the proposed department of examinations.

Declaring that adoption of a pay-as-you-go policy in state, city, county and other political sub-divisions "is imperative" and stating that continuation of the present plan of taxation in Ohio would mean "our complete forgetfulness and disregard of our responsibilities to posterity and the passing to our children as their heritage of a crushing debt problem," Governor Davis transmitted to the state legislature copies of the report made to him by his recent citizens' taxation committee.

The governor's committee recommended submission of a proposed amendment to the state constitution abolishing the uniform rule of taxation, providing for tax limitations on real estate and requiring enactment of an income tax.

Expressing hope that the present legislature will try to provide a satisfactory remedy for Ohio's taxation ills, the governor said that ineffectiveness of the prevailing taxation system is due to failure to enact a debt limitation law when the Smith-one-per-cent. law was passed, to increased cost of labor and operating expenses in government and to failure to enforce the uniform rule.

In the Senate.

The senate has referred to its rules committee the Crabbe joint resolution, unanimously adopted by the house, last week, providing for sine die adjournment, March 31.

Senator Whittemore, Akron, Republican floor leader, announced that "the senate will stay on the job and consistently perform the duties entrusted to it."

He said the house members know it is impossible to adjourn March 31. Senator Whittemore said it is impossible to give proper consideration before the senate, by March 31, of the important measures which the upper legislative branch will be called upon to pass.

Defeating the emergency clause, the house, by a vote of ninety-one to thirteen, passed the McCoy bill prohibiting exhibition of immoral motion-pictures and movies depicting any form of crime. The bill goes to the senate.

Senator Norwood's bill, permitting trial judges to fix minimum sentences of prisoners, passed the house, ninety-one to fourteen. The bill goes to the governor.

The senate, by a vote of fourteen to twenty-one, defeated the McCoy-Bender bill, seeking to provide for permanent tenure of school teachers.

SPECIAL BLESSING FOR AMERICAN NATION

Given Cardinal Dougherty by Pope Benedict.

Rome, March 16.—A special blessing for the American nation was uttered by Pope Benedict XV, when he received Cardinal Dougherty in private audience, Tuesday. The pontiff is deeply interested in all American affairs and the American people.

The cardinal knelt as he entered the papal chamber, but the pope raised him up and embraced him, at the same time expressing his fatherly love for all the American people. Later, the newly-created American cardinal received the International News service correspondent at the American college.

"To say that I was delighted at the cordial greeting of the holy father would be to understate the facts," said the cardinal. "I was deeply moved."

Sunday, Cardinal Dougherty will take possession of his titular church in Rome, symbolizing a new tie between the Old World and the new.

CHURCH SOCIETIES

Epworth M. E. Revival

"Over the Top—No Man's Land," was the subject of Dr. George H. Birney at Epworth M. E. church last evening at the special revival services which are in progress in that church.

"This subject furnishes an opportunity for a fitting analogy to be drawn," said Mr. Birney in opening, "between that matchless act of heroism and the duty of the Christian to go over the top and take the trenches of the devil and conquer the No-Man's-land of sin.

"But what about the barrage," Dr. Birney asked after a realistic description of the zero hour. "The soldiers stand awaiting that hour to go. Why do they not go at once? They await the end of the barrage, because that means protection to them and makes it possible for them to take the trenches.

"So there is a barrage that prepares the way for the Christian worker and makes it possible for him to do his work successfully at a minimum cost. That barrage is the work of the Holy Spirit who batters down the obstructions and routs the enemy.

"The barrage of the Holy Spirit depends on prayer. Just as people pray does God lay down on the enemy the barrage of the Holy Spirit making it possible for your personal word to have its effect on the heart and conscience of the indifferent and sinful. Often have I been led of the spirit to make an appeal to men on Pullman cars, in hotels and offices to find that some one had been praying and that God had broken down the obstacles and prepared the way for victory."

WHAT'S WRONG WITH OLD U. S. A. WILL BE TOLD

Former British Subject To Lecture Tomorrow Night.

Tomorrow night at the departmental school auditorium Dr. Arthur Walwyn Evans, the Welsh orator, will appear as the fifth number on the senior entertainment course of the Harding High school. Mr. Evans is one of America's most popular speakers. He was born and lived in Great Britain for twenty-four years, and was educated in Wales, England and Scotland. He was steeped from childhood in England's political atmosphere an saw history in the making. He is now a United States citizen and has lived in this country for several years.

In his lecture, "What America Means To Me," Mr. Evans tells what is wrong with America, but happily, he also tells what is right with America in a optimistic and convincing fashion and, it is said, that his audiences always go home from his lecture prouder, but not chestier.

At any rate, the patrons of the course are assured a splendid number which is interesting and full of wit. The lecture will begin promptly at 7 o'clock and the price of admission will be fifty cents.

DEVELOPMENTS IN MURDER CASE

Young Man Arrested at Marion, Indiana.

TELLS THE OFFICERS CONFLICTING STORIES

Attempt To Get Heavy Life Insurance Believed Behind Killing of Bourbon Man.

Bourbon, Indiana, March 16.—Sensational developments were expected today in the murder mystery which has baffled authorities of two counties since Saturday following the repudiation by Mrs. Lydia Decker, of Warsaw, of her identification of the body found near the Pennsylvania tracks at Atwood as that of her son and the arrest of the missing youth at Marion.

When confronted with the boy in the morgue here, Mrs. Decker denied that it was that of her son and identified it as that of Leroy Lovett, son of Samuel Lovett of Elkhart.

Virgil Decker, who was supposed to have died here following injuries received in a river shack near Atwood, or when he was struck by a Pennsylvania train, was taken into custody last night. His brother, Fred Decker, and his mother are being held at Plymouth as material witnesses, pending the arrival from Marion of the younger brother.

Dr. N. B. Aspinall, coroner of Marshall county, today said it was his belief that the Lovett-Decker inquest had brought to light a "huge conspiracy to defraud insurance companies of about $30,000."

The coroner's inquiry will be resumed, it was announced, after the return of Virgil Decker from Marion, where he is under arrest.

Given Grilling.

Marion, Indiana, March 16.—After a grilling, continued since his arrest here last night, Virgil Decker, of Warsaw, wanted in connection with the killing of Leroy Lovett, his "double," today told conflicting stories to Sheriff Bert Fowler, of Grant county and officials from Warsaw who are here to take him into custody.

Decker first maintained that he did not know Lovett, but later admitted that he rented an automobile in Elkhart, last Friday and took Lovett from his home to Goshen. He said they were accompanied by another man, called "Guy" and that the trio was going to South America.

From Goshen, according to the story Decker is said to have related, the party went to Warsaw and started to the cabin on the farm near Atwood, rented by his brother. Fred Decker refused to admit, however, that he had entered the cabin.

RICHWOOD BACK IN ITS VERY EARLY DAYS

Philip Plummer, Founder, Is Generous in Donations.

Philip Plummer, founder of Richwood, evidently expected the town to grow to good proportions, and that he was deeply interested in the civic, spiritual and intellectual welfare of its citizens is evidenced by the donations of lots for public purposes as follows:

Lots 12 and 69 on Franklin street, to the first and second fire companies that might be organized, to consist of fifty or more persons each, and own engine and hose or buckets and ladders, lot 44 to the town for a public library when it would appoint trustees and own 200 volumes of useful and miscellaneous publications, lot 100 to the town for a museum, as soon as a council of fifteen members would be legally organized and appoint a naturalist to take charge of it, lots 117 and 118 to the mayor and town council as soon as the town was chartered, lots 137 and 138 for a market place for the town and country people, lots 122, 123, 142 and 143 for common schools, outlot 5 for a place of worship for the people of town of all denominations together, to be managed and regulated and organized on the 4th of July and at Christmas by the whole people together, out lot 14, a botanical garden, to the literary, scientific and medical men when they would form a society of one hundred or more members, the lots to be completely under the control of the town council or a majority of the whole people, composing a number of two hundred or more.

By an act of the state legislature passed a number of years before Richwood was incorporated the ownership of all these lots was restored to Philip Plummer and his heirs.—Richwood Gazette.

Identifies More Richwood Tires

Kagay brothers of Richwood, who identified twenty-four of the twenty-eight tires taken by the police from an automobile near Kenton on the night of March 1, have also identified four more tires found under a culvert near Belle Center a few days later. The firm alleges that the tires were stolen from their garage at Richwood, March 1. They also think that the four unidentified tires at the police station here, are theirs also but they are unable to connect the ones stolen from their garage at that time.—Kenton News-Republican.

CITY IN BRIEF

One Building Permit—A building permit was issued this morning to C. F. Pensinger for a residence addition on Elgin Court at an estimated cost of $150.

Put To Work—A. F. Murphy, of Scranton avenue, was arrested Tuesday afternoon on a charge of illegal trafuriding. When arranged before Mayor T. E. Andrews, this morning, he entered the plea of guilty. He was fined five dollars and in default of payment was put to work on the streets.

J. E. Phillips Speaks—J. E. Phillips gave a very interesting talk on industrial conditions at the regular dinner of the Marion Advertising club Tuesday evening in the private dining room of the Busy Bee cafeteria. He also spoke for optimism and gave his ideas of proper advertising methods. Samuel T. Hurd spoke on direct-by-mail advertising and referred to cases in Marion where mail advertising campaigns have been successfully conducted.

Nominating Committee Named—Mrs. Stephen Hart, Mrs. Fred Smith, Miss Alice Dombaugh and Leo A. Keller were appointed to serve on a nominating committee at the meeting of the North State Street Community club Tuesday evening in the school building. Officers will be elected at the next meeting April 19. Following the business session Morris Sager played a violin solo and Rev. M. L. Buckley, pastor of the Central Christian church, gave an illustrated lecture on "America."

Guests from Japan—The regular monthly meeting of the Marion Engineering society was held in the office of the Marion Steam Shovel company Tuesday evening, and the society had as guests three mining and electrical engineers from Japan. Dinner was served at 6 o'clock and following the dinner talks were given by Dr. H. R. McVay, superintendent of the local schools, and Dr. H. K. Mouser. Ray L. Williams acted as toastmaster and excellent music was furnished by an orchestra composed of members of the society.

Patriotic Instructor's Birthday—One application was received at the regular meeting of the Woman's Relief corps Tuesday afternoon. Members of the executive committee entertained the members of the organization in honor of the birthday of Mrs. C. W. Williams, patriotic instructor of corps. Mrs. Williams received a number of gifts. Members of the executive committee are Mrs. J. H. Dundore, Mrs. Ray Merchant, Mrs. Charles H. Bower, Mrs. Grant Kennedy, Mrs. Edward Wilson, Mrs. G. H. Morrow and Mrs. John Jolly.

Income Taxpayers, Rush—Marion income tax collectors kept their office under the Marion County bank open until midnight Tuesday, the last day of the income tax paying period and were kept busy until the closing hour. Louis Bossing, Marion, and Frank Dugan, Columbus, deputy collectors, were in charge of the office and Mr. Bossing stated this morning that approximately 300 returns were filed yesterday. While the number of returns made this year exceeds last year's total, Mr. Bossing said the amount of tax paid probably will show less as compared with last year's figures.

McGinnis Post Plans—At a meeting of McGinnis Post, No. 162, American Legion, Tuesday night, plans were completed for the boxing matches to be staged under the auspices of the legion at the armory, Thursday night. The promoters promise some of the best pugilistic entertainment that has ever been given in public in Marion, and the members are making a united effort to get out a large crowd of the fight fans. To secure such noted fighters as Alvie Miller, Johnny McCoy, Young Kivi, Tommy O'Boyle, Louis DeArco and Johnny Harcourt, required a heavy guarantee and these being on the card for one night, the fans will be given more than their money's worth. Twenty members of the legion were appointed to serve as ushers and see that order is maintained. A communication referred to the legion by a Marion woman, which asked that funds be raised for the building of a national memorial, was referred back. The legion decided not to take any part in the movement as it may conflict with the work locally to build a home.

Daily Proverb—"Sweep before your own door before you look at your neighbors'."

Let us be perfectly fair to Kansas. She is a great state despite some of her reforms.

Let us hope that we may soon have as much business in government as we have had government in business.

Well, we see that Gabrielle D'Annunzio is going in for really strenuous work at last. Gabe is planning to publish a newspaper.

Of course, some people find paying their income taxes somewhat distressing, but think of the glad Eastertide March brings.

After taking a survey of the needs of the country as reflected in the press from day to day, one is bound to wonder the why of even an occasional cry for daylight saving.

"Coal Trade Reported Dull," reads a headline. Here's our idea of another thing not worth worrying about.

According to Marse Henri Watterson, the Republican and Democratic parties are two empty bottles. To some people, nothing is more distressing than an empty bottle.

If former Attorney General Palmer had made that beer ruling last spring it's hard to figure how anybody could possibly have beaten him out of the nomination.

What we can not understand is why the Ohio State Journal man, who confesses that he is away beyond the forty-one-to-forty-six class, should at this date be reading erotic poems like "The Song of a Bedouin Chief."

The Pittsburgh Gazette-Times says Colby is former President Wilson's choice for president in 1924, but doesn't state on what ticket he is supposed to run.

Even if "medicinal" beer should prove easy to get it will never attain the high popularity of the old beer with a kick unless the drug stores are sufficiently considerate to install highly-polished bars and brass rails.

A Paris editor of Socialist trend says President Harding will soon precipitate a war with Japan. If we were looking for the champion poor guesser of this old world of ours our first choice would be this particular Paris editor.

Although our memory goes back something over five decades we can not recall a time when the Democratic papers of the land were so generally and outspokenly in favor of the civil service system in connection with the postoffice department.

THE PALMER RULING

The ruling by A. Mitchell Palmer, announced after he had retired as attorney general of the United States, gives beer a status for medicinal uses which is plainly not denied it by the eighteenth amendment—whose only authorization is the prohibition of intoxicating beverages "for beverage purposes." Palmer not only holds that beer is not forbidden by the eighteenth amendment and the Volstead law when used as "medicine," but that the law does not place any restrictions upon the number of prescriptions which a physician may issue or the quantity which he may prescribe. The case of the "sick" man must be the basis of judgment.

Investigations by the government have shown that a considerable number of physicians are willing to be used as dispensers of intoxicants to persons who prefer getting a guaranteed brand through the drug stores to taking chances with bootleggers, and there is some reason to believe that there may be an epidemic of ailments which only high-powered beer will relieve.

There is some satisfaction to drys in the knowledge that the opinion of the former attorney general is not final, and that an appeal to the supreme court is likely to be the result if brewers attempt to flood the country with high-gravity beer for "medicine."

Mother Discovers Why He's Eager for School

CHINA ALSO HAS HER PROFITEERS

Whatever mystery may surround political happenings in China, one piece of news stands out stark enough—the famine spells misery and extinction to armies of impoverished Chinese, and its end is not anticipated for several months.

It is difficult to visualize, at this distance, the extent of the disaster; but, as the facts become available, there is revealed not only a colossal misfortune, but also a simply astounding lack of machinery to cope with it.

It is harder still to comprehend the endless selfishness of the political struggle into which China's leaders pour every available coin they can lay their hands on, while this country of potential wealth is not permitted to encourage the human life in it.

Here are these starving people, with wasted crops, suffering not because of their own idiocy or ineptitude, but simply from ungovernable misfortune, at the mercy of profiteers among themselves who hold back supplies for a rising price at the same time foreign philanthropy is striving to transport food to nourish a trifling percentage of the sufferers. The food sent to them from relief agencies rolls up expenses as it travels, eating up the funds. No administrator takes the war-trained coolie labor and builds a light railway; if it were built there is no one to run it; if there were some one to run it, he would run the gauntlet of the official pilferers all along the route.

It's decidedly cheering to note that the present head of the state department isn't wasting any time experimenting in the compiling of soft drinks.

WHAT ARE VITAMINES?

Now what in the world is a vitamine?

We have known there were such things for a month or more, ever since, in fact, the yeast-eating craze made itself manifest, but although we have looked the word up in the dictionary we have not yet had a real good, satisfying definition.

Now, when we thought we just about had a vitamine cornered, and were about to demand to know what it was, along comes the department of agriculture with a bulletin and gaily, cheerfully, nonchalantly says that no one really knows just what a vitamine is.

Vitamines are absolutely essential in food, says the bulletin, and they have been classified in three groups. The first kind is found in seeds, in green plants, in certain bulbs and fleshy roots and fruits, and in milk and eggs. The second group is to be found in butter, eggs and milk, and in the heart, liver and kidneys of edible animals. The third group is in grapefruit, lemons, oranges, tomatoes, spinach and lettuce, and in eggs and raw milk.

Eggs and milk—all three kinds of vitamines are in them. They are, according to dietitians, the perfect foods. That is very consoling. One may just go along having fried eggs for breakfast and drinking a glass of milk at every meal. Then, although we don't know what vitamines are, we'll be sure to have plenty of them.

NO GROUND FOR MISCONCEPTION

A few people who delight in misrepresentation insist upon reading into the Harding inaugural address a declaration that the United States will have nothing to do with Europe. Such was not President Harding's statement. He said that "We do not mean to be entangled. We will accept no responsibility except as our own conscience and judgment in each instance may determine." There is nothing vague or indefinite about that. There is no opportunity for misunderstanding. The United States will participate in European affairs whenever it deems such action best, and in the manner that seems wisest, but this nation respectfully declines to commit itself to an agreement which binds it to parties, pacts or a method, and at a time which other nations may determine. We propose to be masters of our own fate.

LIFE'S VAUDEVILLE.

[By James Ball Naylor]

TYPHUS

Typhus!
The mere name brings a shudder.
For it is well known that typhus fever is a dread plague.
It is an acute, contagious disease—specific in origin.
It lasts from ten to twenty days—when the unfortunate victim lives that long; and is characterized by high temperature, delirium, thirst, a peculiar and loathsome eruption, and much general suffering.
The period of incubation—the time elapsing between exposure and the manifestations of the disease—averages about twelve days.
Typhus is a disease peculiar to want and filth and wretchedness.
It frequently accompanies, or follows, the waste, worry and misery of war.
Probably it was the cause of some of the dreadful epidemics recorded in ancient annals sacred and profane.
It is known that it visited Italy in 1083.
Again it came to the land of sunshine and wine, in 1506; and once more in 1508.
By 1528, it had arrived in Germany.
Since then it has been more or less common on the Eastern hemisphere—some place, or places, suffering from it almost every few years.
Typhus is no respecter of persons
It cares not for sex.
No age is exempt from its baleful attacks.
It knows not the high nor the low.
It respects not the rich nor the poor.
However, the young and strong naturally bear the disease better than do the old and the infirm; and the well-to-do are not so likely to contract it, as are those who dwell in crowded sections of cities and amid squalid surroundings.
How is the contagium of typhus conveyed.
It has long thought that it was conveyed through excretion, through the patient's clothing and even through the surrounding atmosphere; and, in certain instances, it may be thus conveyed. But recent investigations go to show that usually typhus results from the bite of a body louse that has had a feeding ground upon the body of a typhus victim.
Are we to have typhus in this country?
The awful disease never has been epidemic in the United States.
Is such visitation to be inflicted upon us?
If so, how—and why?
If we have an epidemic of typhus in this country it will be due to our criminal neglect.
Typhus must come to us, from abroad; must be brought by objectionable immigrants.
Are we going to permit such condition to exist—such circumstances to arise?
It looks like it.
Already typhus is on our shores. Three or more deaths have already occoured in New York City, from this disease.
And what are our health authorities doing about the matter.
Nothing adequate—so far.
Typhus is preventable
The morality rate, among average feuils, is only fifty per cent.
Are we goin to shut it out?
I don't know.

Be sure you're right, then stay right there.
A late supper embraces the things of which dreams are made.
The man whose only thought is for himself has little use for brains
Even if the wind does whistle occasionally it never tackles popular airs.

BRIXMENT is a slow-setting, plastic, smooth-working cement for masonry. It is the product of fifty years' experience in manufacturing cements.
BRIXMENT does not require soaking or any preliminary preparation. It is ready for use immediately after mixing, either in summer or winter; and it may be mixed near the work, as mortar is required by the mason.
BRIXMENT sets in about four hours. It may be re-tempered, if necessary, without material impairment of strength, but re-tempering any good cement is bad practice.
BRIXMENT mixed one to three with clean, sharp sand, or eight sacks of BRIXMENT to one yard of sand, makes a mortar that in a short time equals building brick in crushing strength.
BRIXMENT costs no more than barrel lime and the use of it obviates the necessity for the usual lime mortar-bed; therefore, it is not only cheaper but better than lime mortar or any combination of lime mortar.
We have on hand an ample stock for all requirements, and the price is right.

Time Has Proven That the "Easy" Is Best

Forty years' evolution of the "EASY" VACUUM ELECTRIC WASHING MACHINE has proven that the principle upon which it works—air pressure and suction, most nearly approaches the work of human hands.

Thousands of housewives have tried the "EASY" and have found that it does the family washing better and almost without effort.

For the vacuum cups force the hot soapy water by air pressure through the meshes of the garments and then by suction draw it back again, the same way an expert laundress would wash by hand, without rubbing, dragging or tearing the clothes.

The "EASY" has a large capacity and the big polished copper tank is easy to load, unload and keep clean. Made of solid copper, brass, aluminum and enameled steel. It is rust proof

The wringer starts, stops, reverses and swings to any desired position instantly

The "EASY" is anxious to do your next week's washing and prove that it is the best and most efficient washing machine you ever heard of. Phone for a demonstration today

Many Seek Short Cuts to Wealth Without Paying the Price

FAR too many people want diamonds, decolette gowns, tailored suits and silk shirts without first being willing to use alarm clocks, aprons, overalls and flannel shirts. There is too much envy of wealth and too little willingness to work for it.

Hard work and regular savings taken from meager salaries, with the interest earned, have enabled many a poor man to acquire riches. Rockefeller, Carnegie, Schwab, Woolworth, and many of the world's richest men started with nothing except determination to work hard and save regularly.

Those who spend freely usually end chained to their jobs. Those who save regularly win final freedom. Begin now—open a Savings Account at this bank and save some from every pay.

R. L. Ewing, New York, International Y. M. C. A. Committee Member, Also Speaks.

Illiteracy is one of the big problems of the country today and it is the province of the schools to establish an individual contact in teaching the children of the country, rather than try to instruct them as a group.

This view was expressed by W. R. Heistand, county superintendent of schools, in addressing the weekly noon luncheon of the chamber of commerce in the Y. M. C. A. building today.

Mr. Heistand pointed out that twenty-five per cent of the drafted men during the war were illiterate and stated that this caused an economic loss of millions of dollars. He also asserted that one-half of the accidents in the industrial work are due to illiteracy among the workers. He deplored the theory advanced by some that many illiterates are so constituted mentally that they can not respond to instruction and stated every one has the ability to learn something.

"Responding Gloriously."

"Some persons whom we think are not interested are many times disgusted," Mr. Heistand said, "and in going into some school rooms I am not surprised that they are disgusted." He spoke of the value of physical education and the problems of rural education and asserted that the country people are responding gloriously to the cause of education.

R. L. Ewing, of New York, member of the international committee of the Y. M. C. A., spoke briefly of the work of the association outside the United States. He spoke especially of the work in India, where he was stationed for six years; in China, and the war work of the association in Great Britain, of which he had entire charge. W. N. Harder presided and introduced the speakers.

If there is any one thing that explains the meaning of "civilization" it is our beautiful home life in America. What we understand of beauty, comfort and utility is expressed by our home environment, hence the higher our civilization the better our homes. It is a cause for encouragement that the universal tendency today is for "Better Homes." No matter what economical troubles the world has to face, there is a basic determination that homes must be furnished in keeping with our developing ideas. An attractive sun-room like the one shown above can readily be furnished from our large stock of new summer furniture.

Holding A Husband

BY ADELE GARRISON.

"Who is this, please?" I didn't catch the name.

Dicky's voice, courteous, ... interested, came over the telephone to me. I had hurried in from with Fate's ... the clanging of ... around, that I was fairly ... when I got into my car to ... to the station. And the knowledge that I had barely time to make my train connection before the ... for Lillian's train made me so nervous that I have no doubt my voice was unnatural. At any rate, Dicky did not recognize it, and for a minute I had a ridiculous school-girlish impulse to pretend that I was someone else to find out just how far that shadowy interest in his tone would carry him.

Fortunately, however, my sanity intervened to save me from so banal a proceeding, and I answered him in my usual formula.

"It is I, Madge."

I wondered if it were my imagination or if the interest really vanished from my husband's tone. There was a familiar note in his voice, however, an irritated ironical inflection, which was anything but flattering to my vanity.

"O! You!" he exclaimed. "I must be getting popular out in Marvin. Her Fluffiness called me just a few minutes ago, and now you are favoring me. What's on your mind, old dear?"

His tone, which I knew reflected his mood was not the one I should have wished for the reception of news such as I had to give him. I temporized, putting off the evil moment as long as possible.

"Of course, you're coming out to dinner?" I ventured.

"Why the 'of course'?" he answered crossly. "It's a wonder some of you brilliant intellects out there wouldn't think to let me know about Alf's home-coming before his train-time. As it happens I was able to get out of an engagement tonight by the skin of my teeth, but it was a close shave, and I'm not so particularly pleased over it, I can tell you. By the way, where am I going to sleep tonight? Have you aired the house out? Are the bedrooms all right?"

"Everything has been aired and warmed," I replied slowly. "I will be perfectly safe to sleep there. But Dicky, I am sorry to tell you that everything is far from being all right with the house."

"Why? What do you mean?" he demanded, his voice startled from a drawl to incisiveness.

I told him in as few words as I could manage, but left out no detail save that concerning the peculiar treatment accorded to the contents of my keepsake trunk. This, I felt, belonged solely to Lillian, because of the clue to the marauders which I was certain she wished to trace in that miscellany.

Dicky did not speak during my recital, nor for several endless nerve-racking seconds afterward. When his voice did come to my ears it was cold with fury.

"I gather that you first gained this interesting information yesterday afternoon, shortly after you reached Marvin. Am I right?"

"Yes, Dicky, but—" I felt like a doormat, but was perfectly willing to act like one, for my sense of justice told me that he had every right to be offended.

"But nothing!" he said explosively, then resumed the icy tone, reflecting the one of Dicky's moods which I most dread. "What I am most curious to know is your reason for calling me now. Why tell me anything about it at all? Don't you realize, that humble and unworthy of consideration as I am, yet I might be rash enough to do something which might interfere with the gum-shoe work now no doubt being staged by Underwood and Graham, the world-famed duo?"

"I am awfully sorry, Dicky, and very much ashamed of myself. But, truly, yesterday when I 'phoned I was so upset that I felt I couldn't talk to you about it over the wire, and since then I've been so busy helping Mrs. Durkee, and seeing to the house, that I haven't had a minute."

"A minute for me, you mean," he interrupted coldly. "I'll wager you've had plenty of 'em to soothe and settle every one else from Katie to Her Fluffiness and back again. I suppose Katie's there today. You said she was coming."

The last sentence was in almost his ordinary tone. I realized that for some reason, perhaps my contriteness, his anger had lost its edge, and the danger of the one of his unreasoning rages was averted. I was careful to answer him in a commonplace manner. Any recognition—even tentative on my part—of his change of mood might renew his anger.

"Yes, Katie and Jim are both very much on the job," I said lightly. "I wish you could come out early this afternoon as you could look over the house by daylight."

There was a second's pause which seemed like an hour to me.

"I'll be there at 4 o'clock," he said at last, a trifle sullenly. "Good-by."

He had not asked me to meet him, but I resolved to be at the station when the 4 o'clock train came in, even if Leila's rose-colored draperies lacked some of their hem-

Is Rheumatism Really Incurable?

Misdirected Treatment Will Make You Think So!

Rheumatism is a very insidious disease. In fact, its pains may hardly be noticed at first. But they become more frequent, and gradually increase in severity, and before you hardly realize it, you are firmly in the grip of a disease that may make you helpless.

First of all, you must realize that Rheumatism's pains are not on the surface, and cannot be rubbed away. Then you will discard the liniment bottle, and seek the source of the disease.

Many forms of Rheumatism are due to a tiny germ in the blood, which multiplies by the million and spreads its pain to different parts of the body.

When you realize the logic of this conclusion, you will see that —you are really wasting your time and money if you are expecting any permanent relief from the use of liniments, lotions, and other locally applied treatment, which can only reach the surface and have no effect whatever upon the origin of your trouble.

Any disease should be treated at its source, and especially one that causes as much suffering as rheumatism. For what you want is not mere temporary relief from the torturing pangs of pain, which will promptly return with renewed severity. The only treatment worth while is one that will show some progress toward getting at the source of the disease, and freeing the victim from its shackles.

The one point that the medical profession has agreed upon, is that some forms of rheumatism are caused by a tiny disease germ in the blood, which multiplies by the million, and until these germs are routed from the blood, you can see how futile local treatment will be. In fact, you can rub with liniments and use lotions by the gallon and never hope to reach the cause of your trouble.

So many people have found real permanent relief from their rheumatism by the use of S. S. S. that its use is justified in practically every case. Certainly if your rheumatism is due to a germ in the blood, as so many thousands of cases are, you should lose no time in beginning the use of S. S. S., because you can rely upon this fine old blood remedy to do you more good than any other treatment.

S. S. S. is beneficial in rheumatism, because it is such a thorough blood medicine. It cleanses the blood of all impurities, and eradicates the germs which cause rheumatism. The wonderful results it has accomplished in other cases is proof of its great merit. S. S. S. has been on the market for more than fifty years and is sold by all druggists.

S. S. S. is the logical treatment for Rheumatism, because it purifies the blood and eliminates the disease germs.

You are invited to write our medical department for valuable literature and advice about the treatment of your own case, for which no charge is made. Address Chief Medical Adviser, 37 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Georgia.—(Advt.)

"IT'S GOT WORLD BEAT," HE STATES

Akron Man and Wife Are Both Restored to Health by Taking Tanlac.

"My wife and I are great advocates of Tanlac now and call it our home medicine," said J. S. McGlone, ... Market St., Akron, Ohio, well-known employe of the Pennsylvania railroad.

"My wife and I have both been in bad health for a year or more, suffering from stomach trouble. Every time I ate anything I nearly always ... I hadn't touched a bite, for ... I was almost deathly sick at ... Even a glass of water upset my stomach and at night I couldn't get any rest hardly and often had terrible nightmares. Dizzy spells struck me at times, and if I didn't catch hold of something I would fall to the floor.

"My wife had indigestion so bad she couldn't enjoy a single meal. She had no appetite, was all run-down and so weak it would nearly break her down trying to do the housework.

"I started taking Tanlac at the same time and both of us commenced improving so fast it seemed like a race between us to see which one would get well first. We took four bottles apiece and today we are in the best of health. She can do the housework with ease and looks like a different person. I have the finest kind of an appetite, eat anything I like and feel as spry and healthy as when I was a boy. We are both only too glad to speak a good word for Tanlac. It's got the world beat, that's all."

Tanlac is sold in Marion by The Rumble Pharmacy, in LaRue by Sifrit's Pharmacy, and in Waldo by Apt Pharmacy.—Adv.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are known by their olive color. 15c and 30c.

MANY CASES OF RHEUMATISM NOW

Says We Must Keep Feet Dry, Avoid Exposure and Eat Less Meat.

Stay off the damp ground, avoid exposure, keep feet dry, eat less meat, drink lots of water and above all take a spoonful of salts occasionally to keep down uric acid.

Rheumatism is caused by poisonous toxin, called uric acid, which is generated in the bowels and absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine. The pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly, cold weather the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to do double work, they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this uric acid which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism.—Adv.

GARIS' BEDTIME STORIES

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE RUBBER PLANT.

[BY HOWARD R. GARIS.]

[Copyright 1921, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.]

"Uncle Wiggily," said Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy one morning, "I am going away visiting for a few days, and I want you to promise me one thing."

"What is it?" asked the bunny rabbit gentleman. "If you want me to wash the dishes after meals I'll do it."

"There is something else," said the muskrat lady housekeeper. "Please don't forget to water my rubber plant."

"Hum!" said the bunny. "I shouldn't think it would do much good to water a rubber plant. It can't get wet."

"The ground in which it grows can be wet," said Nurse Jane, "and, Wiggy, I want you to promise not to forget."

"I'll water your rubber plant every day!" promised Mr. Longears, twinkling his pink nose forward to show that he was in earnest. "But where are you going, Nurse Jane?"

"To spend a few days with Aunt Lettie, the goat lady," was the answer. "I have cooked up a lot of good things for you to eat. You'll find them in the ice box and pantry."

"I'll do the best I can," said Uncle Wiggily.

"And don't forget the rubber plant!" called Nurse Jane, as she rode away on the back of the mud turtle jitney to visit Aunt Lettie.

Uncle Wiggily really meant to water the muskrat lady's rubber plant, but you know how it is; when you're playing tag you often forget to go to the store for some molasses vinegar. That's the way it was with the bunny gentleman. He went off adventuring so often that the rubber plant sort of slipped his mind.

He would think of it after he had eaten his supper all alone in his hollow stump bungalow and had gone to bed.

"I'll surely water that plant in the morning," Uncle Wiggily would say to himself, not wanting to get up.

'And don't forget the rubber plant!" called Nurse Jane.

But when morning came the bunny rabbit gentleman would be in such a hurry to get his breakfast of carrot oatmeal, and hurry out to look for an adventure that he would forget all about the rubber plant needing water.

One day, when Nurse Jane had been away about a week, and the bunny gentleman was getting lonesome for her, Uncle Wiggily hurried back to his hollow stump bungalow.

"I simply must water that rubber plant," he said to himself. He hurried inside his bungalow so quickly that he left the front door open. Going to the sink Uncle Wiggily filled the coffee pot with water and took it into the sitting room. There stood the poor rubber plant, sad and drooping.

"Dear me!" said Uncle Wiggily as he poured water on the earth in the pot. "I must set you out in the warm kitchen to freshen up."

He was carrying the plant in his paws to the kitchen when, all of a sudden there was a rushing sound in the hall and in bounced the bad Bushy Bear.

"Oh, ho!" cried the Bear. "I'm just in time! Here, give me that! It looks green and good to eat! I'll take a few bites of that and then I'll nibble your ears," and he grasped the top of the rubber plant in his paws, that bear did.

"Please let go," begged Uncle Wiggily. "This is Nurse Jane's!"

"Much I care for that!" growled the Bear, pulling away, and the rubber plant began to stretch.

"Don't!" cried Uncle Wiggily.

"I'll do as I please," grumbled the Bear, pulling the top of the rubber plant still more, while Uncle Wiggily held the pot in his paws.

"Look out! It will stretch too far and break!" cried the bunny.

"I don't care!" gurgled the Bear. And then, to save Nurse Jane's plant, Uncle Wiggily let go the pot. And of course the plant, being stretched, suddenly snapped as the bunny let go.

"Bang! Whang!" went the pot against the nose of the Bear.

"Oh wow!" howled the Bear. "I didn't know a rubber plant would stretch and then snap back this way! Oh, my nose; my nose!" Then he ran out and left the bunny alone and Mr. Longears soaked the plant in water and saved it from dying.

HOT, DIZZY FEELING

Atlanta Lady's Uncomfortable and Annoying Condition Relieved,' She Says, by Cardui.

Atlanta, Ga.—Miss Alice Frances Young, of 28 East Alexander Street, this city, says: "After entering womanhood, I suffered so much with womanly weakness. My back ached. I would have, at certain times, a hot feeling that seemed to go to my head. Even my shoulders would hurt, and it made me very dizzy and uncomfortable. When the blood would flow to my head—I suppose that was what it was—I would faint and feel so weak.

"I couldn't do my work. I had a good position, and this was surely annoying as well as embarrassing. I would usually have to go home and go to bed. I certainly suffered greatly.

"I heard of Cardui, and my mother bought it for me. It was the first and only medicine that ever did me any good for this trouble."

Dizziness, headache, sideache, backache, tired-out feeling and other disagreeable symptoms are often signs of womanly troubles. Thousands of women who formerly suffered from these and similar ailments have found Cardui a very valuable remedy.

Cardui is composed only of pure, vegetable ingredients which have long been recognized as of medicinal value in the treatment of many diseases and disorders peculiar to women.

JUBILEE'S PARDNER

by Judd Mortimer Lewis

I bet I could put a union suit on in the dark. I said so when I was eating my breakfast, and my grandfather shook his head and said that once in a blue moon there was a man or woman born that could do something unusual, but he never saw a man or a woman put on a union suit in the dark, and he said as a matter of fact, he had never seen much of anything in the dark.

Then I asted him how many fish he caught yesterday, and he said if he had had one more bite and he'd landid it he would of had one. He said he sot on the breakwater till a couple of men had to come out and get him and take him to a house and thaw him out before he could straighten himself out enough to walk home. My mother said that every time he breathed she could smell what they thawed him out with.

I asted him sure enough how he got his game leg and he said that he seen a man in a circus tie himself in a knot when he was a little boy, and when he went to bed that night he tried it and he got both of his feet up behind his head and then he could not get them down again, and it was a week before his mother missed him and come looking for him, and she had to get a crow bar to prize him loose from himself and it slipped and busted his knee-cap, but he thought mebby he might outgrow it.

He said it was embarrassing when he was courting my grandmother, because she would set on his good knee for a while, and then she would move over onto his other one which was his stiff one, and she would slide down that leg like she was on a toboggan slide and go off onto the floor.

I do not know how a boy grows up to be as good a liar as that. I could if I could practice but I would get licked for lying every time I tried to practice.

Whitey has got a pair of roller skates. If a fella is rich and has got ice skates and roller skates, too, he is lucky. We went to his house and his mother was not home and he rolled up the rug in the parlor, and there is a shiny floor that a fella could almost skate on with ice skates, and he let me try them on but my feet went different ways and I grabbed the floor lamp and was laying on the floor with it on top of me when someone screamed and it was Whitey's mother.

I grabbed the floor lamp and was laying on the floor with it on top of me when someone screamed and it was Whitey's mother.

There was something she did not like about our being there, so I took off the skates and we all skun out. Me and Jubilee walked out like we had not done anything. We hadn't. Whitey stayed home because she said she had something for him. I bet I know what it was.

No matter how perfect you make pancakes and waffles—what you like best is the syrup

DID you ever stop to think that what you taste most, and what you like best on your pancakes or hot biscuits or waffles—is the syrup?

In millions of households every morning Karo starts the day off for everybody. It gives just that finishing touch to the crisp brown cakes or the hot biscuits that make the meal a delight.

Karo is equally delicious for cooking, baking, candy making, or preserving. Many cooks use it to stew dried-fruit or prunes; or for candied sweet potatoes, brown breads, muffins, coffee cake or puddings.

Do you know why Dextrose is very important food?

You cannot live very long without Dextrose, the great energy food. Most of the food you eat—such as bread, cereals, vegetables and all forms of sugar—has to be changed into Dextrose before your system can use it as energy food.

Karo contains a very large percentage of Dextrose—which is the most perfect form in which sugar can come. So Karo may almost be said to be a predigested food. These are scientific facts, supported by the very highest medical and food authorities. Send for the free booklet mentioned below and read all the facts.

For your boys and girls to be strong and sturdy, give them plenty of nourishing Karo—on cakes or bread.

Your Protection

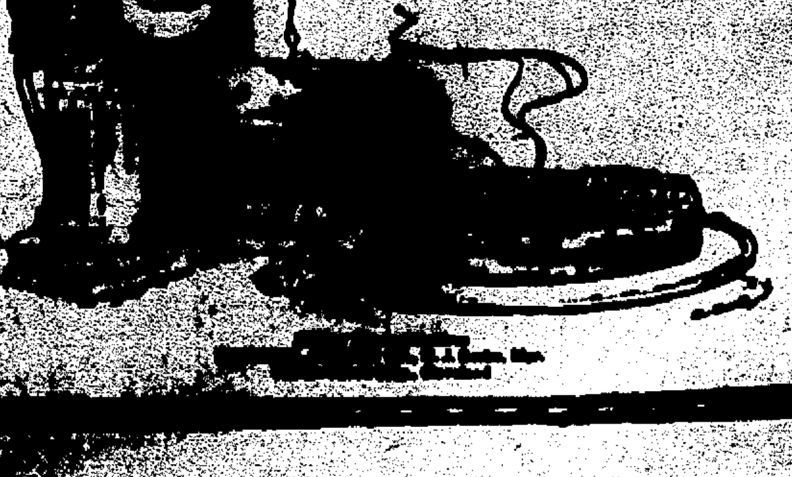

Do not be deceived by some containing syrup that might look like Karo. The name "Karo" is on every can of original Karo—look for it and be assured of full weight cans and highest quality.

Backache of Women

The back is often called the mainspring of a woman's life. What can she do where can she go, so long as that deadly backache saps every particle of her strength and ambition? She can not walk, she can not stand, her housework is a burden, or the long hours behind the counter in the office of factory are crushing. She is miserable. The cause is many times some derangement of her system, and backache is a common symptom. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a reliable remedy for backache, as for more than forty years it has been relieving women of America from the ailments which often cause it.—Adv.

How Much Tobacco Will My Heart Stand

A Question Vital to Every Man Who Smokes or Chews

IT MAY COST A PRECIOUS LIFE TO FIND OUT BY EXPERIMENT.

The heart of every user of tobacco bears a double burden. It does its allotted task and then fights nicotine for supremacy. As long as the heart wins he lives; when it loses he dies, but before the final victory of nicotine you pass through many stages of decline and decay and suffer many pangs. Hearts are like human beings—some are stronger than others, therefore, some hearts will stand more tobacco than others, but there is a limit to what any heart can stand. The man who puts this additional strain on his heart a dozen times a day by smoking cigarettes, a pipe or cigar—or chewing tobacco—is taking a madman's chance with health and life to lose and nothing to win but the chance that he may not lose then. He is indulging in a costly habit at the expense of good health. Ask any Doctor anywhere, and he will tell you that using tobacco is injurious and that it is far better to quit the habit than to experiment to find how much tobacco your heart will stand without serious results.

But the thought of quitting is unpleasant to most men—even to those who know that tobacco injures them—and to really quit takes more willpower than it does have, and causes [illegible] they find solace [illegible] To quit the habit make it easy for yourself by getting Nicotol tablets and taking them as directed. The habit really quits you, and its departure is a pleasure equal to its indulgence.

If you want to know how much easier it is to quit the habit with Nicotol than without it, go twenty-four hours without tobacco and note what an effort it costs you, then begin using it as usual and take Nicotol tablets. At the end of a week discontinue smoking or chewing for a day, and it is probable you will have no desire to resume. At least your desire will be greatly diminished, and another week or two should make it not only possible, but a pleasure, to quit.

Note: Dr. Connor, formerly of Johns Hopkins Hospital, under whose advice Nicotol has often been used, said when this statement was shown to him: "I have known Nicotol to conquer the tobacco habit in less than ten days' time and I can therefore recommend it highly." When the doctor's statement was shown to one of our leading druggists he said: "Nicotol is truly a wonderful remedy for the tobacco habit, way ahead of anything we have ever sold before. We are authorized by the manufacturers to refund the money to every dissatisfied customer, and we would not permit the use of our name unless the remedy possessed unusual merit." Nicotol is sold in this city under an iron-clad money-back guarantee by all up-to-date druggists, including Heuney & Cooper.—Adv.

CONSTABULARY IN OHIO ENDORSED LAST NIGHT

By the Community Uplift Club. A Program.

A resolution favoring the adoption of the constabulary bill was drawn up and acted upon at a well-attended meeting of the Community Uplift club held Tuesday evening in the Smeltzer school house. Copies of the resolution were sent to Representative H. W. Cookston and Senator James R. Hopley.

A splendid program was given opening with a song by the members of the Osgood quartet. The quartet which is composed of Stanley Brobeck, Lester Craven, Marion Craven and John Davis, contributed four pleasing numbers during the evening. A debate, "Resolved, That Emigration Should Not Be Restricted," was enjoyed. The affirmative was discussed by Miss Florence Dunn and Miss Fanny Fiscus and the negative by Miss Laura Carder and W. B Long. The judges decided in favor of the negative side.

Mrs. O. E. Burks gave an interesting talk on her trip to Florida and Mrs. J. G. Kriles contributed two readings. "Little Boy Blue," a musical number, and "Putting the Baby To Sleep."

FARMERS MAY GIVE COIN AND NOT CORN

Sentiment Revealed at Meeting Held Last Night.

At a special meeting of the Marion County Farm Bureau Tuesday night a committee was appointed to take charge of the request for donations of corn for European relief. Recently the farm bureau received a request from the Ohio State Farm Bureau federation for donations of one and one-half per cent. of the crop raised in the country.

Ohio's quota of the 3,500,000 bushels to be donated in the country was placed at 500,000 bushels. Marion county last year raised approximately 3,000,000 bushels of corn and its quota was placed at 30,000 bushels.

Discussion of the proposal at the executive board meeting last night revealed a sentiment among the farmers favoring donation of money to buy the corn rather than donating the corn raised here. It was brought out that many farmers are now buying corn for feeding purposes and the donation of the grain would only mean that they would have to go into the market for feeding supplies and in addition to the cost of the corn would have to pay shipping charges on it.

M. M. Boger, Marion township; Walter Williams, Claridon township; and Herbert Davis, Big Island township, are the members of the committee to take up the proposition of donating corn for European relief. They were given authority to investigate the matter from all angles and decide whether donations of corn from Marion county farmers will be encouraged.

J. B. Wolfslagel, president, and George Schweinfurth, secretary of the farm bureau, were appointed members of a committee to complete arrangements for the annual meeting of the farm bureau Wednesday afternoon, March 30, at 1 o'clock. All details for the meeting, including the place for holding it, are to be worked out by this committee.

Columbus Gasoline

Don't blame the engine when your car is slow and sluggish. Take most of the censure yourself for trying to tease efficient results from inferior grades of fuel.

Thousands of Ohio motorists know that Columbus is best for their cars, and they buy only Columbus.

They have power to spare, even on the steepest hills and in heavy going. They enjoy a fast getaway. Their engines start easily, even on the coldest mornings. Columbus, too, is crowding more miles into the gallon than they got from other gasolines.

You can benefit from their experience. Like them, you'll buy nothing but Columbus after you've tried the first tankful.

APPRAISALS

Perhaps you wish to know the present-day value of your real estate. The Marion Real Estate Board is prepared to give you authoritative appraisals based on a thorough familiarity of local conditions and values.

This service is surely a welcome one, and the charges are nominal.

E. H. COWAN,
Sec.-Treas.

A message of vital interest to every Marion citizen.

Inspired by motives of better and more intelligent service, the accredited real estate dealers of Marion recently organized under the rules and regulations of the National Association of Real Estate Boards.

The ideals of the local board are such as to command the favorable attention of all property owners and prospective buyers.

Responsibility is one of the prerequisites of membership.

A contempt for all practices of a discreditable nature is the outstanding attitude of the board. Each member is pledged to honest and helpful service, assuring both buyer and seller treatment that will be equitable insofar as is humanly possible.

The members of the Marion Real Estate Board are privileged to use the designation "Realtor," which is a copyrighted word signifying a high regard for ethical practices. You can be assured that the real estate agent using "realtor" after his name is a dependable agent, meriting your confidence.

In matters relating to your property, and there are a hundred and one problems that are puzzling you, you can be certain of prompt, conscientious attention at the hands of any realtor.

The board will hold monthly meetings, when the various phases of Marion real estate conditions will be taken up and educational programs presented—all with the view of enhancing the capacity of the members better to serve the public.

Taxation matters, which concern every property owner, will constantly be under consideration, assuring an organized influence to the interest of all owners of real estate that will be of no little consequence.

If you wish to sell consult a realtor; and those who are planning to buy of course will promote their own advantage by relying on a realtor to provide their house needs.

Remember, the word "realtor" is your assurance of a square deal.

DREDGE GOES DOWN IN TREACLES CREEK

It's Now in Deep Water Near Richwood.

The big dredge, which is used in dredging Treacles creek, is now at the bottom of the stream, under twelve feet of water, near the residence of Elias Hathaway in Union township.

The big cable which holds the spud arm broke Wednesday letting the corner of the dredge, which was tied on, drop to the bottom of the stream. Machinery has been sent for and it will be several days before the dredge can be removed.

Charles I. Clamme, of Hartford City, Indiana, has the contract for doing the work, and had been getting along nicely until this accident happened. The contract was first awarded to the Ritchcour Dredge company, of Hartford City, Indiana, and they sub-let the contract to Mr. Clamme.

This happened at 2 a. m. Wednesday morning. Day and night shifts have been on duty and they had their own electric lights, having a dynamo which was driven by their steam engine.

The house boat which follows the dredge did not sink.—Marysville Tribune.

ERIE'S RETRENCHMENT HITS OFFICES TODAY

Clerks, Stenographers and Operators Are Laid Off.

BIG FOUR TO REDUCE WAGES OF EMPLOYES

Save Transportation Men, Operators and Agents—News of the Railroads.

The work of retrenchment on the Erie hit more of the officers in Marion, this morning, and there is a probability that further reductions in the office forces will be made. Several clerks and stenographers were let off in the accounting bureau and also in the office of the superintendent. Two clerks and one operator were taken off in the office of the despatcher of the Kent division, one operator and one clerk in the office of the Cincinnati division and two operators at Kenton avenue.

The forces of the Hocking Valley and Pennsylvania have not been reduced, but the employes are taking Saturdays off except for a couple at each office in the freight department.

Notice issued last week by the Big Four railroad of a proposed reduction of the wages of unskilled employes was supplemented yesterday by another notice from General Manager E. M. Costin that it is proposed to reduce the wages of all employes other than train and engine employes, telegraph operators and agents.

Specifically it was said effective April 16 it is proposed to reduce the pay of employes in these classes: Shop mechanics, helpers and apprentices of all descriptions, maintenance of way mechanics and helpers of all descriptions, car and locomotive mechanics, helpers and apprentices of all descriptions, clerks, storekeepers, stationary engineers, firemen and oilers and all office, shop yard and roadway employes generally in all departments. The notice said conferences are desired with "employe concerned," and that due notice would be given of the time.

Mr. Costin said: "There has been a marked change in conditions since the railroad labor board granted the present rates of pay. It is felt that these changes justify and require a reduction in the existing rates, and that the public welfare demands that an equitable adjustment be made in order to correct the present distortion in industrial conditions resulting from the high rates paid railroad employes."

The force of Western Union linemen, that has been in the city for the past several weeks making improvements and changes in the telegraph system of the Pennsylvania, has completed its work and left the city today.

C. B. White, a special agent of the American Railway Express company, is looking after business of his department in the city.

W. L. Kendall, of Chicago, general dairy agent of the Erie, was looking after business in the city, Tuesday.

H. E. Rodenfels, of Columbus, general agent of traffic and operating of the C. & O., was a visitor in local railroad circles, Tuesday.

A. C. Justus, special claim agent of the Erie, was on Dayton, Tuesday, on business of his department.
